Pirates of the Caribbean

Feb 14, 2024

I can confirm that the Margot Robbie movie is still in development plus some info on the other Pirates movie from Craig Mazin and Ted Elliott. While initially the protagonist was supposed to be RED, a white female pirate from the Disneyland ride, with Karen Gillan eyed to star, plans have changed and the new protagonist is now a black female lead named ANNE (could be a codename), with The Bear's Ayo Edebiri now eyed to star. The focus on this new version is on a younger cast of pirates looking for a hidden treasure.

I would've loved to have seen a movie about Captain Red, but I'm interested to see what Edebiri can bring to the role

Dani, I know this has nothing to do with the post but are you planning on posting a list of the trailers that will premiere at the Super Bowl?

For now there will be only 9 episodes and then they'll see what happens if there are more it will be Part 2 of season 1 not Season 2. Deborah Ann Woll will have a bigger role in a possible Part 2 and next season.
